

3D Signal Brigade 'Makes a Difference,' adopts community projects

By Cpt. Michael Greenberger

3rd Signal Brigade PAO

The 3rd Signal Brigade set out to participate in the national Make a Difference Day Oct. 22 by adopting projects around the Fort Hood Community.

57th Signal Battalion organized a food drive in its companies by holding a contest to see which company could collect the most food for the Killeen Food Bank.

The true winner was the Killeen Food Bank, that received more than 750 pounds of food items.

HHC, commanded by Capt. Michael Parker, collected the most items and will get three-day passes from the 57th Signal Battalion

Commander, Lt. Col. Joseph Layton.

The HHC donated to the Cove House Homeless in Copperas Cove. Soldiers arrived early, and delivered a bevy of donated goods.

The 313th Signal Company struck out early Saturday morning to pitch in at the Comanche Children's Development Center.

They joined other volunteers in an effort to clean-up the CDC's playgrounds, rake the area and organize the storage sheds.

"The assistance will help the CDC be prepared for an upcoming inspection it will have toward being accredited, and the playground will be a cleaner, more organized area for Fort Hood's children to play in," Capt. Pam Alexander, 313th Sig. Co. Commander said.

The 4-5 ADA Bn. joined 3rd Sig. Bde.'s efforts to make a difference by cleaning debris and trash from local fishing lakes.

The 16th Sig. Bn. rear detachment joined several other volunteers to work on a house being constructed in Copperas Cove by the Fort Hood Area Habitat for Humanity.